

3 myths that stop small businesses cold.

01

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

Federal contracts are for big corporations — small businesses can't compete at that level.

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Small businesses took $16.6B in Q2 2026 alone — IT, engineering, construction, professional services. The money is real. The barrier is paperwork, not odds. Source · USAspending.gov

02

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~You need a federal track record before any agency will look at you.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Teaming agreements let new shops compete under an established prime's history. Subcontracting builds your own record while you're still learning how the market moves.

03

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

Getting on the GSA Schedule means the contracts start coming automatically.

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

The Schedule is a buying vehicle, not a sales engine. It opens the door — you still have to market, build relationships, and respond to RFQs. Most new holders go quiet and wonder why nothing lands.

YOUR TURN

Which one almost stopped you?

Drop the myth you believed when you first looked at federal contracting.