

3 myths that kill new GovCon shops.

01

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~You can't win federal contracts without prior federal performance.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Teaming agreements let new shops partner with established primes — you inherit their track record. Mentor-protégé programs work the same way. The first contract is rarely won alone.

02

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

Getting on the GSA Schedule means contracts will come to you.

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

The Schedule is a pre-approved vendor list, not a lead machine. It removes the barrier to entry — but selling, follow-up, and BD are still yours to own.

03

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~The GSA Schedule costs too much and takes too long to be worth it.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Most small businesses spend $5K–$15K and 6–9 months to get approved. Once on, the Schedule is valid for 20 years. The question isn't what it costs to get in — it's what you lose by staying out.

YOUR TURN

Which one almost stopped you?

Drop the biggest GovCon myth you believed before you started pursuing federal contracts.