

3 myths that kill GovCon entries before they start.

01

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~You need past performance to win any federal contract.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Teaming agreements let new firms piggyback on a prime's track record. Mentor-protégé programs exist for this exact reason. GSA Schedule approval doesn't even require federal past performance.

02

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~You have to be the cheapest option to win federal work.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Federal contracts are evaluated on best value — not just price. Technical approach, experience, and reliability all factor in. Undercutting on price often signals low quality and tanks your margins.

03

OF FIVE

THE MYTH

~~The GSA Schedule is really built for large businesses.~~

WHAT'S ACTUALLY TRUE

Over 80% of GSA Schedule holders are small businesses. Congress mandates 23% of all federal contracting dollars go to small businesses. The system was designed with you in mind.

YOUR TURN

Which one held you back?

Drop the myth you believed when you first started exploring GovCon.